

May 1, 2011

Dear Hiring Manager,

I am writing to offer my recommendation for Amber Rhodes. She was my clinical student for Advanced Medical-Surgical Nursing (Spring 2011) and Nursing Leadership (Spring 2011).

Amber provides excellent care in the clinical setting. She is committed to safe, effective patient-centered nursing. She consistently respects her patient's preferences, values and needs. Her care is compassionate, conscientious, and professional at all times.

As a novice nurse, Amber possesses strong critical thinking abilities, at times exceeding expectations. She also displays great initiative in learning clinical skills. These skills are enhanced by her knowledge of nursing theory/practice and her work in the hospital as an Admitting Clerk.

She is skilled in teamwork and collaboration. Amber functions very effectively in the healthcare setting. Her style is to foster mutual respect, and shared decision-making.

As a student, she is aware of her strengths and weaknesses.

She responds well to evaluation and always works to improve her nursing care.

Without question, Amber demonstrates strong professional nursing characteristics and will make an excellent addition to your healthcare team.

Sincerely yours,

Susan Hantz RN, MHED
Associate Professor of Nursing