

May 23, 2011

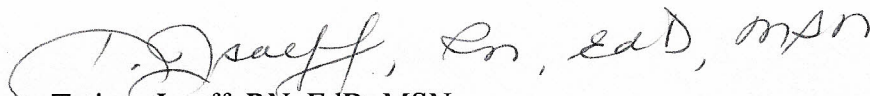

RE: Amber Rhodes

To whom it may concern:

It is with pleasure that I write a letter of support for Amber Rhodes' application. I have known her for several years as she was taking courses preparing to enter the nursing program and for the two years of the nursing program. I was her theory instructor in the first year for N212: Homeostasis in Nursing and in the second year for N241: Advanced Medical-Surgical Nursing I. I was her skills lab instructor for N245 which spanned the Spring semester of 2011.

Amber is a well-motivated student. She is serious about her studies and her learning. She has devoted herself to her learning and the RN role-taking and RN role-making. She has come well-prepared to class. She has actively participated in classroom activities and enjoyed critical-thinking opportunities where she can apply new knowledge and skills. She has a sound knowledge base in pathophysiology and nursing process. She has the intellectual capability and psychomotor skills ability to be successful in any care setting. She demonstrated a leadership role in the College of San Mateo Nursing Student Association.

Thank you for this opportunity to give feedback and recommend her to you.

Tatiana Isaeff, RN, EdD, MSN
Professor of Nursing